

E-mail Subject: New Information and Resources to Assist ITT Students

Dear ITT Technical Institute Student:

The U.S. Department of Education (ED) is committed to continuously providing displaced ITT students like you with information and resources to help you understand your options and continue your education.

To help you learn more about your options, including eligibility for loan discharges, we've scheduled additional webinars for ITT students. These webinars—which include representatives from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs—are designed to describe your options and address your questions. To register for any upcoming webinar, click here, or visit StudentAid.gov/itt.

Earlier this week, we announced the availability of a new online resource designed to match ITT students with on an on-call advisor who can help answer your questions about academic planning, financial aid, transfer credits, and more. Visit nextstepsedu.org to get connected to a volunteer advisor.

ED continues to coordinate with state and institutional leaders who are hosting transfer fairs, open houses, and student meetings near many of the closed ITT campuses. We are also posting links to state websites and portals that have been created to assist and inform displaced ITT students like you. Many of the sites include a listing of fairs and meetings sponsored by community colleges, universities, and others that are reaching out to ITT students. To view a listing of the fairs and to access state websites, click here or visit StudentAid.gov/itt. Please check this website frequently, as we are continuously updating it with confirmed fair locations, new links, and resources, as well as the latest information.

If you have more questions, please review our updated Q&A page, where you can view answers to questions other ITT students have asked, or contact the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243).
